The Chickahominy – Bermuda Hundred – Darbytown 230 kilovolt (kV) project proposes to rebuild 34 miles of transmission line across Charles City, Chesterfield and Henrico counties. These upgrades will support continued reliability, improve grid efficiency and meet Central Virginia's growing energy demands. This project will not require new right of way.

This project is in the development stage with plans to file an application with the Virginia State Corporation Commission (SCC) this fall. Join us to learn more about this project at our community meeting on Tuesday, August 25, from 5–7 p.m. During the meeting, you can speak to project team members and ask them detailed questions about the project.

Your continued involvement and input are important in developing this project. Thank you for your understanding as we work to maintain reliable electric transmission service in your community.

Protecting the grid against natural and man-made acts is a top priority. You can learn more about our commitment to safety at powerlines101.dominionenergy.com.

This map is intended to serve as a representation of the project area and is not intended for detailed engineering purposes.
