Proposed infrastructure improvements

Carson – Midlothian & North Anna – Midlothian 500 kV Electric Transmission Rebuild Projects

Dominion Energy provides reliable energy that powers your every day. You are receiving this postcard to update you on the Carson-Midlothian-North Anna Project. This project proposes to rebuild 78.5 miles of 500 kilovolt (kV) transmission line, rebuild approximately 24 miles of 230 kV line, and build a new 230 kV line between Reams Substation in Dinwiddie County and the Winterpock Junction in Chesterfield County. All construction would occur within existing right of way corridor. Existing lattice towers will be demolished after the new monopole structures are in service.

The project application was going to be filed with the Virginia State Corporation Commission (SCC) in August and will now be submitted in October 2026. This allows engineers extra time to evaluate important customer input received on the conceptual transmission line design. We value your feedback, and the project team is committed to minimizing potential impacts to properties along the right of way.

The existing electric transmission right of way is commonly at least 235 feet wide. Some previously unmaintained areas have trees and incompatible vegetation that must be removed now. Beginning in May 2027, you may notice forestry surveyors working in and near the right of way. Tree removal is tentatively expected to begin in August 2027, pending permits and weather conditions.

Thank you for your participation and patience as we prioritize this critical infrastructure in your community.

Protecting the grid against natural and man-made acts is a top priority. You can learn more about our commitment to safety at powerlines101.dominionenergy.com.
