

A message from CEO Bob Blue

At Dominion Energy, our mission is to provide the reliable, affordable, and increasingly clean energy that powers our customers every day. To help us carry out that mission, we rely on a broad array of suppliers for goods and services.

Experience has taught us that casting a wide net for potential suppliers ensures the best outcomes. One way we do that is by ensuring that small, local, and diverse businesses have the opportunity to work with us.

A wider pool of suppliers makes the bidding process more competitive. Seeking suppliers from all walks of life helps us find the best talent, which enables us to serve our customers better.

This is an exciting time to be in the energy business. A revolution in emerging technologies and techniques is happening in the industry, and Dominion Energy is leading the way. We see great things on the horizon, and we intend to make sure everyone has a chance to take part — so we can all move forward together.
