

Charlene J. Whitfield
Senior Vice President–Power Delivery
Dominion Energy Virginia

Charlene J. Whitfield is senior vice president–Power Delivery, Dominion Energy Virginia.

She is responsible for Dominion Energy’s regulated electric transmission, distribution, and customer energy solutions business that provides electricity to about 2.7 million customer accounts in the State of Virginia and northeastern North Carolina.

Whitfield joined the company in 1982 as an electric distribution service representative and has since held numerous operational and management positions within Dominion Energy Virginia. In 2012, she was named director–Customer Relations and Policy and became director–Customer Account Management in 2014. She was named director–Electric Distribution Operations in 2016 and vice president–Customer Service in 2017. In 2018, she was named vice president–Distribution Operations and assumed her current position in October 2020.

Whitfield earned a bachelor’s degree in accounting from Virginia Union University and later earned the award of Distinguished Alumna. She is currently the executive sponsor for Virginia Union University.

She is a member of the boards of directors of the Dominion Energy Credit Union and the Greater Richmond Partnership and past member of the board of trustees for the Children’s Museum of Richmond.