

Congaree River Cleanup Video Transcript

I'm proud of the work that we've done.

You know, a lot of folks said
it couldn't be done.

We had, you know, people that we invited to bid on the project.

They said it couldn't be done.

36,000 tons of tar contaminated sediment.

And along with that, another two and a half tons of tires, debris that was along, with it in the river.

When the private and the public and everybody in between work together, that's when you get progress.

It was really remarkable how quickly
how well it was all done.

The efforts that Dominion went through to deep water this and to, collect all this, it's unprecedented at this point.

There's nothing like it at all.

It was just a team effort,
learning every day

from each other and by what we experienced here in the river.

And as we started moving along,
I saw the impossible became the possible,

and then the possible
turned into an absolute success.

Getting this project done a year in advance.

I don't know if there's enough thanks to Dominion and its leadership for making that happen.

What Dominion has done as a responsible corporate citizen, the determination to get it done right and get done fast so we could proceed with our,

growth happiness is a great thing.

The biggest and highest calling is to leave it better than we found it.

And that is what we did,
so that future generations can come here and enjoy the beauty of this place where we are today.
