Dooms-Harrisonburg 230 kV Electric Transmission Rebuild Project

At Dominion Energy, we are committed to keeping the communities we serve informed of projects in their area. We recently announced a new project that will rebuild the existing electric transmission line between our Harrisonburg Substation in the City of Harrisonburg and Dooms Substation in Augusta County, Virginia.

We invite you to learn more about the project at two upcoming community meetings. Our subject matter experts will be available to answer any questions you may have. Both meetings will cover the same content and will be hosted in an open-house style. Feel free to drop by anytime between the hours of 5 and 7 p.m.

We look forward to sharing more about the project and listening to your feedback as we move forward with project planning.

UNABLE TO ATTEND? NO PROBLEM.

Here are other ways to engage with our team:

- View meeting content at your convenience on our project website.
- Contact us by email or phone to discuss the project.
- Contact us and request a meeting with a smaller group in your community.

This map is intended to serve as a representation of the project area and is not intended for detailed engineering purposes.
