Earleys-Tunis-Suffolk 230 kV and 115 kV Electric Transmission Line Rebuild Project

At Dominion Energy, we are committed to providing the reliable, affordable, and increasingly clean energy that powers your every day. To maintain electric reliability for our customers, we are proposing to rebuild two aging electric transmission lines in Hertford and Gates counties in North Carolina. One line extends 11.9 miles into the City of Suffolk, Virginia.

To support this project, we plan to survey the right of way corridor this spring. Our crews will access the right of way on foot or in light duty vehicles to identify and flag wetland areas. Our survey crews may also flag the right of way boundaries and may obtain small soil and/or vegetation samples.

The Earleys-Tunis-Suffolk project is currently under review by the Virginia State Corporation Commission (SCC). We anticipate receiving a Final Order from the SCC this fall. This project does not require review by the North Carolina Utilities Commission (NCUC).

We will continue to update you on this important reliability project.

Protecting the grid against natural and man-made acts is a top priority. You can learn more about our commitment to safety at powerlines101.dominionenergy.com.
