Trowbridge Solar Interconnection and Transmission Line Rebuild Project

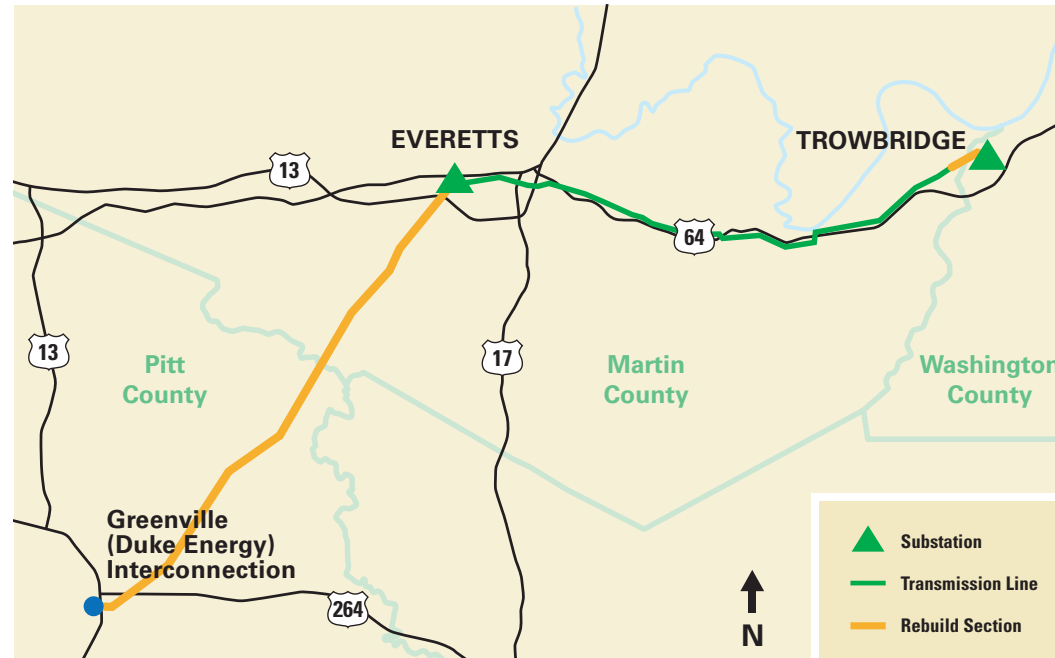

At Dominion Energy, we are committed to keeping you informed of upcoming projects in your area. You are receiving this letter because we are planning electric transmission line and substation upgrades in Martin, Pitt, and Washington counties.

This project connects the Macadamia Solar project in Washington County, North Carolina, to the electric grid and upgrades existing electric transmission lines to support the new renewable power source. There are three main components of this project:

- Expand Trowbridge Substation in Washington County
- Expand right of way corridor by 20 feet and partially rebuild a 1.5-mile section of Line 25 in Martin and Washington counties
- Rebuild 20 miles of Line 218 in Martin and Pitt counties from Everetts Substation to our interconnection with Duke Energy in Greenville

We are currently in the design and development stage of the project, and you may see our team in the field completing surveys and collecting soil samples in the coming weeks. We anticipate construction to start in early 2025 and will provide opportunities for neighbors to learn more through virtual and in-person community meetings.

We appreciate your patience and understanding as we work to provide safe, reliable, affordable, and increasingly clean energy to our customers.

This map is intended to serve as a representation of the project area and is not intended for detailed engineering purposes.

Protecting the grid against natural and man-made acts is a top priority. You can learn more about our commitment to safety at powerlines101.dominionenergy.com.
